

TRANSITION TALES

Story Writing Competition

It's 2050 and Cambridge has changed...

Without cheap oil and other fossil fuels, we've found new ways of doing everything: from how we grow our food, get around, keep warm in winter, to the clothes we wear, where we go on holiday and what we do for fun.

... but it's still a buzzing city, full of life
Write a story set in 2050 with your vision of how you'd like Cambridge to be!

£750 worth of prizes

Judges: Jill Dawson, Colin Greenland,
Nicola Terry and Rowan Wiley.
Closing date 30 April

transitioncambridge.org/storycompetition

With thanks to our sponsors:

ARCHITECTS CAMBRIDGE LTD

Top picture by Tjep <http://www.tjep.org>. Used with permission from Frank Tjepkema. For more information about this project, see <http://oogst.org>. Transition Logo by Rob Hopkins.
Bottom right drawing by Cecilia Macaulay. Printed on Regency Silk Art FSC certified paper using environmentally friendly toner inks by alocalprinter.com, based in West Sussex.